what should i do now jane? i have gotten more help from you then anyone else prostaglandins are produced by two different enzymes, known as cox-1 and cox-2, which are found at sites of inflammation as well as in other sites around the body.