we're a bit jealous of the fans that have made it out there and we'll be hoping like hell for a stream tonight.

if we don't value our time why should anyone else? there are good paying good experience jobs out there.

think about how many times we come into contact with disease.

when shedding occurs, the infected birds excrete the bacteria in the feces and nasal discharges and the bacteria can remain infective for several months.